night preceding mean noon and consists of twenty-four hours counted after 12 o'clock. The astronomical day be-gins twelve hours after the civil day, or at the mean noon of the corresponding civil day. These hours are reck-oned from 0 to 24. It will be seen, therefore, that while 10 hours 12 minutes Jan. 1 astronomical time is also 10 hours 12 minutes Jan. 1 civil time, yet 22 hours 12 minutes Jan. 1 astronomical time is also 10 hours 12 minutes a. m. Jan. 2 civil time. There are many anomalies growing out of this use of the civil day, and there are many arguments in favor of using the astronomical day. It is one of the reforms which undoubtedly will come some time.—London Standard.

A Sensitive Tenor.

Roger, the celebrated French tenor, was exceedingly proud of his profes sion and was apt to take offense at the least slight, whether intended or not On one occasion he was engaged for the sum of £60 to sing at the house of a rich financier who thought it the correct thing to have the principal singers of the day at his house parties.

Roger sang his first song magnifi-cently, but not the slightest attention was paid him, the guests talking their loudest. Presently the host thought that it was about time for another song and sent for Roger, but he could not be found and was seen no more. On the following day Mr. Plutus was surprised to receive from Roger notes to the amount of £80, with the following words:

"I have the honor to return the £60 which I received for singing at your party, and I beg to add £20 more to make up for having so greatly disthe conversation of your guests."-London Tit-Bits.

Wisdom That Comes With Age, I well remember one case before a ent's counsel in a criminal action and in which an older and well known attorney was my opponent. As I thought then and as I know now, the law and evidence were well in favor of my elient, and at the close of the arguments I looked with great confidence for a prompt acquittal. Judge of my aston-ishment when my unfortunate client was found guilty and sentenced to thirwas found guity and sentenced to thirty days in jail. I promptly entered an appeal and furnished sureties to prosecute the same. Before I left the court-room the justice took occasion to take me aside and say, "Young man, I kinder thought ye were right, but I knowed Judge W. (naming my opponent) is a sight older'n you be and a sight better lawyer'n you be, and so of course I gin him judgment."—Judge Shute in Les-lie's Monthly,

The Bird of Paradise, Probably no famous bird has a small-er habitat than the bird of paradise, whose beautiful feathers are so highly prized in the millinery trade. No one knows why the varieties of this beautiful bird are confined to the Island of New Guinea and the neighboring coasts of Australia. There are many other islands not far away where the conditions would seem to be equally favorable to their existence, but they are not found among them, and if we should ever see a hunter of the bird of paradise we would know that he was a native of New Guinea or the neigh-boring mainland of Australia or had visited those regions,

Have you any idea what is the average length of a tree's life? Information gathered by the German forestry commission assigns to the pine tree 700 years as a maximum length of life, 425 years to the silver fir, 275 to the larch, 245 to the red beech, 210 to the aspen, 200 to the birch, 170 to the ash, 145 to the elder and 130 to the elm. The heart of the oak begins to rot at about the age of 300 years. Of the holly it is said there is a specimen aged 410 years in existence near Aschaffenburg, in Germany,

New York Daily Tribune.

If you are looking for a daily history of the world, carefully collated and si'ted and presented in the most attractive form that the facts and the laws of good taste will permit, you cannot make any mistake in reading the Tribune every day. It contains special articles on nearly every subject which is supposed to interest intelligent and clean-minded people, to say nothing of the illuminating and instructive editorial articles and reviews of books, music and the drama. Invest $1 and get the daily and Sunday Tribune by mail for a month. With the Sunday Tribune goes a handsome illustrated supplement and a magazine, with colored covers, equal to anything sold for ten cents. The Norfolk and Wash-
